“My family and I have hope for today. Love, trust, happiness.”
—Contra Costa Recovery Wall

Warning Signs
These behaviors are commonly associated with teenagers who have substance abuse problems—but in many cases, may also reflect normal teenage growing pains:

- Mood changes
- School problems
- Rebelling against family rules
- Switching friends abruptly, and reluctance to let you get to know the new friends
- A “nothing matters” attitude (sloppy dress, low energy, lack of engagement)
- Finding or smelling alcohol or drugs on your child or in their backpack or room
- Memory lapses, poor concentration or other mental issues
- Bloodshot eyes, slurred speech or a lack of coordination

If someone you care about has any of these warning signs, you can call these numbers for help:

East Bay Young People of Alcoholics Anonymous

EBYPAA is a group of sober alcoholics having but one primary purpose, to be of service and carry the message of AA throughout the Bay Area. We hope to balance the more serious aspects of life in recovery with fellowship enhancing activities.

EBYPAA was formed to meet this purpose in the late 80’s and has been doing exactly that, for fun and for free. Through love and service we carry the message of recovery to those that want and need it.

Alateen

Alateen is a fellowship of young Al-Anon members, usually teenagers, whose lives have been affected by someone else’s drinking. Alateen groups are sponsored by Al-Anon members who help the group to stay on track. Alateen offers hope and help for younger family members and friends of alcoholics.
